From The Rectory

Dear friends,

Despite the cold, wet and windy weather we have had lately, it is lovely to see that signs of spring are beginning to emerge. There are already signs in the garden of new growth: early snowdrops and crocuses are appearing, daffodil shoots are rising boldly up into the cold air, hopefully about to add a splash of colour to the ground. I'm sure they will be welcome sight for many, as they bring hope of the spring to come, of new beginnings, rebirth and better warmer weather.

On February 2nd the church celebrates the festival of Candlemas which is considered to be one of the oldest Christian festivals; it celebrates the light that comes to banish the darkness. Candlemas is half-way between the shortest day and the spring equinox, (so hopefully lighter nights are not far away!!) Some people also believe it can predict the weather for the rest of winter.

*If Candlemas Day be fair and bright
Winter will have another fight.
If Candlemas Day brings cloud and rain,
Winter won't come again.*

Candlemas was the day when people brought all the candles to be used throughout the year to church to be blessed. They were asking God's protection on their homes and families for the coming year. The lights of Candlemas were a reminder of the light of Christ shining in the darkness, bringing hope in the midst of uncertain times.

We are reminded at the beginning of John's Gospel that Jesus came to be a light in the darkness of this world and to shine out as a sign of God's presence among us. 'The true light that gives light to everyone was coming into the world.' (John 1: 9)

At Candlemas we reflect upon the presentation of Christ in the Temple in Jerusalem, and the recognition by the elderly Simeon and Anna of Jesus as the Christ, the Messiah. When Simeon encounters Jesus he declares: 'Master, now you are dismissing your servant in peace, according to your word; for my eyes have seen your salvation, which you have prepared in the presence of all peoples, a light for revelation to the Gentiles and for glory to your people Israel.' (Luke 2:29-32)

Candlemas offers us the opportunity to look back over these past weeks of Christmas-tide, giving thanks to God for the gift of his son. Simeon sees that the child is the light to enlighten the nations, his words reveal that Jesus is the Messiah of all of God's people.

The coming of spring brings with it hope and the promise of new opportunities. So in February, think about your hopes for the future and the new life and joys that may come.

May you be filled with Christ's grace and blessings in the coming month, Adam.

"Pupils are eager to come to this friendly and welcoming school. They respond well to adults' high expectations of them. Leaders ensure that pupils experience a broad, interesting curriculum that includes a focus on learning about the local area. Pupils behave exceptionally well during lessons and at playtimes. Reading is promoted as soon as children join school in the Nursery. Teachers and teaching assistants have strong subject knowledge." Ofsted 2022

Pastoral Visitors

Some of you may be unaware that there are two pastoral visitors in the parishes of Myddle and Broughton, Mrs Rosemary Narburgh and myself Margaret Parson. Our task is to assist Adam, our Rector, by visiting anyone in need of a listening ear.

Sadly, in these times, the job of the local parish priest is vastly different from years ago, in that much of his work is carried out from behind a desk. A vast quantity of administration work has to be done and many meetings have to be attended and, of course, Adam is also responsible for 5 churches in 3 parishes.

The role of a pastoral visitor is therefore vital, and we will be happy to visit anyone who is sick, sad, or just needs to talk to someone.

The problem is, we do not know who you are unless you contact us.

Of course, anything told us will be in the strictest confidence.

HARMER HILL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

One day a professor entered the classroom and asked his students to prepare for a surprise test. They waited anxiously at their desks for the test to begin. The professor handed out the question paper with the text facing down as usual. Once he handed them all out, he asked his students to turn the page and begin. To everyone's surprise, there were no questions, just a black dot in the centre of the page. The professor seeing the expression on everyone's face, told them the following, "I want you to write what you see there."

The confused students got started on the inexplicable task. At the end of the class, the professor took all the answer papers and started reading each one of them aloud in front of all the students. All of them with no exceptions described the black dot, trying to explain its position in the middle of the sheet etc.

After all had been read, the classroom was silent. The professor began to explain, "I am not going to grade on you this, I just wanted to give you something to think about. No one wrote about the white part of the paper. Everyone focused on the black dot and the same happens in our lives. We have a white paper to observe and enjoy, but we always focus on the dark spots. Our life is a gift given to us by God with love and care."

"We always have reasons to celebrate: nature renewing itself every day, our friends around us, the job that provides our livelihood, the miracles we see every day. However, we insist on focusing only on the dark spots: the health issues that bother us, the lack of money, the complicated relationship with a family member, the disappointment with a friend etc. The dark spots are very small compared to everything we have in our lives, but they are the ones that pollute our minds. Take your eyes away from the black spots in your life. Enjoy each one of your blessings, each moment that life gives you. Be happy and live a life positively!"

As the professor explained, life is a bag of good and bad things, we all have positives and negatives along the way but we must always concentrate more on the positives for a healthy and happy life. Life goes on no matter what so do not waste your time thinking about the negatives.

Food for thought

A minister was preoccupied with thoughts of how he was going to ask the congregation to come up with more money than they were expecting for repairs to the church building. Therefore, he was annoyed to find that the regular organist was sick, and a substitute had been brought in at the last minute. The substitute wanted to know what to play. "Here's a copy of the service," the minister said impatiently. "But you'll have to think of something to play after I make the announcement about the finances."

During the service, the minister paused and said, "Brothers and Sisters, we are in great difficulty; the roof repairs cost twice as much as we expected, and we need £4,000 more. Any of you who can pledge £100 or more, please stand up."

At that moment, the substitute organist played "The National Anthem."

A Message from the Editors

Well, if you are reading this, then we must have succeeded in getting our second edition to the printers without being sacked so all is well. To our knowledge, we only made one mistake in editing the Christmas edition, and that was to lose the advert for the Crib Service in St Peter's Church. We are sorry about that and will endeavour not to lose anything again. But please, if anyone does notice something missing or inaccurate, contact us on the editorthemessenger@myddle.net email address.

And indeed, any positive comments or suggestions would also be welcome. The deadline for material for inclusion in the next edition will be the 18th of March as usual.

Meanwhile, we hope that everyone has enjoyed a relaxing Christmas and New Year holiday, and that even the livestock farmers managed to find a bit of peace and quiet!

Parish Council News

The Council made a flying start to the New Year by holding a meeting in Harmer Hill Village Hall on January 3rd when the Agenda included a variety of issues for consideration including:

The Budget for 2024 -2025

The proposed budget was adopted after the Clerk reported that by careful financial control it had been possible to ensure that the current financial year will end well within the planned expenditure forecast. This has enabled the Council to request the same precept from Shropshire Council for the next year and means that that the Parish Council element of the Council Tax should not be increased for residents living within the Parish boundary.

The details of the budget can be found on the Council web site or can be obtained from the Parish Clerk by sending in a request accompanied by a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Highways

Over the past year the Council has continued to receive many requests for improvements to the roads in and around the Parish including; extensions to 30mph restrictions and the creation of buffer 40mph speed limits; the creation of a footpath from Pimhill to the Bridgewater Arms in Harmer Hill; various warning notices and not least improved road safety at Myddle School. Shropshire Council are responsible for these developments and the Council is in constant discussion with its Officers but are well aware of the financial problems they are facing. As a result Members are trying to negotiate alternative ways of funding some of the projects.

Myddle Recreation Ground

The Council has been made aware of reports on the local Facebook group querying the safety of the field but we respectfully request that if there are problems, please report them to the Parish Clerk, a local Councillor or the Police so that action can be taken. Every effort is made to keep the area safe for every one. The play equipment is checked regularly by a qualified officer and Parish Councillors frequently walk round the field. Attempts to get volunteer or paid help to do a weekly litter pick have not been successful.

Police

Members were pleased to welcome to the meeting PCSO Oliver Morris who has recently been appointed to the Wem Police Team. Oliver is determined to get involved in community issues and is particularly keen on helping to improve road safety at local schools.

As always the full minutes of the meeting can be found on the Council web site www.myddleandbroughton-pc.gov.uk, and the Clerk can be contacted at myddlebroughtonclerk@talktalk.net or by telephone on 01743 236810

In a last-ditch mission to get recognition for her talent, a non-conformist, forgotten artist persuades her psychiatric nurse to take her on a road trip back to where her story began – but with so many deviations into the past along the way, will they ever make it?

BEATING THE BOUNDS

PART 3 – What does it look like?

The next question was, how to write this up so that it is an interesting and informative read. To describe it by saying we started at point A, then we saw a tree, then there was a brook, then another tree, would be boring in the extreme. So instead in this section I will talk about the form of the boundary, in the next I will talk about the topography and land use through which the boundary passes, and finally I will finish with a few thoughts on the permanence or otherwise of the physical boundary.

In the main, the boundary follows physical features in the landscape, nearly always a brook or a ditch, and for this reason is rarely in a straight line. Some brooks within the parish do indeed run in straight lines, and these are usually associated with the 16th and 17th Century land drainage and reclamation. But the brooks that the boundary mostly follows are clearly natural features of the landscape, and one instantly gets a feel for the great age of the feature. The hedges are straggly and overgrown, the trees are ancient, mostly oaks, and the ditches are often poorly maintained. Perhaps there is an issue about who is responsible for that maintenance? The photograph below is by Birchgrove, just south of where the boundary crosses the Baschurch road by the Tan House at the western end of the parish.

In a couple of places the boundary follows what would have been very important rights of way. In the east of the parish, from Bilmarsh up to Alderton, the boundary follows the route of the old salt road along which merchants would have transported that rare and important commodity from the salt fields of Cheshire south to Shrewsbury and on via the River Severn. The “wich” suffix in the towns of Nantwich and Middlewich refer to the brine springs which was the source of the salt. Walking this section, you really get a feel for the age of the route, the track deeply incised in the land. You can almost sense those pagan spirits in the ancient trees on either side. Hopefully the photo below captures some of that. But then it comes up by Broughton Cottages and is a little disappointing as it follows the B5476 towards Harmer Hill although geographically this is still the salt road.

Another interesting section is the short distance where the boundary follows the Hollins Lane, now a bridleway leading from the west of the village south past Hollins Farm and on to Merrington. This is part of an ancient route leading from Ellesmere south through Myddle parish to Bomere Heath, and finally to Shrewsbury via what is now the Berwick road.

Then there are parts of the boundary which are basically boring! As the boundary drops down from the Ellesmere Road in Harmer Hill, just south of the Bridgwater Arms, it follows the contour at the bottom of the Pimhill ridge before striking north towards Moss Farm, then west for Merrington Lane. For this section there is no ditch, the boundary for the most part follows straight lines, and the hedge looks much younger. It is clear that this section of the boundary is different, probably set out and agreed with the neighbouring parish of Pimhill to the south when the Hare Mere was first drained and turned into pasture during the 16th Century. The “modern” nature of the boundary continues west of Merrington Lane until the land starts to rise again and the boundary takes on its more traditional feel towards Praddoe Coppice.

More in the next issue....
